Gospel Reflection

Sin isn't given its due these days. Downplaying sin is dangerous. But there is also another spiritual misstep in which we make way too big a deal out of sin. It happens, for example, when we persistently wonder if our confessed sins are "really" forgiven, or suspiciously ponder what God "really" thinks about us, behind His merciful face. Or when someone returns to Church, and we question whether his or her conversion was genuine. Or when we commit some sin and put on a sad face for days, thinking, "Maybe my sins are too great for God to deal with." God save us from that attitude!

Well, He does just that, this week, in the raising of Jairus' daughter. The dead twelve-year-old's house is filled with a spirit of excessive moaning and groaning, tumultuous weeping and wailing. They even laugh at Jesus in a mocking tone. It's shocking how easy it is for Him to raise the dead child. It is equivalent to gently waking a kid from a light nap. And then He sends her off to get some lunch. No big whoop. The overactive drama is actually part of the problem, and removing it is a key part of the miracle.

Friends, sin can and does kill, but Jesus is always ready and able to raise us back to life, often without much hullabaloo. His ease of forgiving should never be a pretext for presumption, minimizing sin or taking lightly the cost He pays for our sins on the cross. But for God's sake, we often need Jesus to put out the weepers and wailers. He's the Lord. And remember, the girl is not dead, she's just sleeping.

Scripture of the Week

"Little girl, I say to you, arise!" (Mark 5:41b)

This week's Gospel recounts Jesus once again telling another to not be afraid. Immediately after Jairus has been informed that his daughter had died Jesus says "Do not be afraid; just have faith." (Mk 5:36b). Our Gospel ends with Jesus raising the girl after she had died.

Fear can paralyze us - perhaps even to the point of death. Yet faith can just as easily paralyze fear and restore to us the life God meant for us to live. Our First Reading encourages us in this - "For God formed man to be imperishable, the image of His own nature He made him." (Wisdom 2:23) Lean into God. Surrender fear. We know well that God sent His Son to die for us, but do not forget that Jesus also rose for us. "Just have faith."

Paul Keefe is retiring this summer from his position as the Director of the Contemporary Choir. He has faithfully served our parish community in this capacity for over 38 years, and we have been blessed by his dedication, service and the sharing of his musical gifts. His work has been greatly appreciated by parishioners and guests.

In the coming days, let us make sure to express our gratitude to him and to offer our prayers during this time of transition. He will continue to worship here at Holy Name of Jesus, and he looks forward to doing that within the congregation.
